MCAD Announces The Master of Fine Arts Public Research Presentations 2019

Minneapolis, MN—November, 19—The Master of Fine Arts (MFA) class of 2020 at the Minneapolis College of Art and Design (MCAD) invites you to two sessions of public research presentations on the mornings of December 10 and 11, from 9:30 to noon each day. Each student will present a ten-minute summary of their research from the past semester with time for questions. Take this opportunity to learn more about the ideas and contexts behind the work of these soon-to-be graduating students. Candidates in MCAD’s interdisciplinary MFA program explore wide-ranging ideas through a multitude of media including graphic design, fiber, installation, comics, illustration, painting, drawing, video, performance, sculpture, and multimedia.
